WALL STREET, SUNDAY, May 25, 1873.

The chief feature of the past week was an atsmpt to enforce a scheme, apparently well conted, but thus far unsuccessful, having for its object a locking up of gold. The failure to drive the market, however, showed its solidity. The movesprung from no cause deeper than the personal whim of an autocratic clique of speculators Owning, as, perhaps, they imagine, a power-which by the way, is thoroughly fictitious-they sough o disturb the entire range of financial relation ships, and so produce results that would displace values and create a stringency from which they might gather their spoils. So far, however, has been against them. Wall street is satisfied with one Black Friday. It wants no more. And there is no reason why such a tempestuous period should recur. The speculative interest has availed itself of this effort of the "bulls," but the current quotations show only a slight, and, by no means, an unhealthy variation. the nighest and lowest pr ene-half per cent in the extreme prices from the beginning to the end of the week. It is not without the range of probabilities that THE RESIGNATION OF THIERS and the appointment of MacMahon as President of France, reported by our foreign advices this morning, may set at work revolutionary influences that will affect the foreign market, react upon England and be reflected to the United States. Doubtless this fact will be seized upon to-morrow or during the week, as all other perturbations are made use of in Wall street, as a pretext for a fresh onslaught of the bulls at the Gold Board; but there is no reason to anticipate any change in the financial condition of France until at least her people begin to low some symptoms of returning frenzy. These de not yet appear. Our

are stronger to-day than they have been for a long time, and the large and continued purchases for foreign account have nearly exhausted the present supply. The Germans principally have been converted into strong bears in gold, in consequence of the firm tone of American securities abroad, even In the face of the advanced rates of the Bank of England, and have been heavy buyers of oonds for shipment. It may be added that in the history of the issues the people of Great Britain and the Continent have never been so thoroughly impressed with their value for permanent investment as at present. Hence the estimate that the aggregate exportation of cur-bonds since the first of the year amounts to something like forty millions of dollars does not seem to be far from the truth. This fact alone is one of the elements of monetary health. The CLOSING PRICES OF GOVERNMENTS on Saturday afternoon were as follows:-United States currency sixes, 116 a 116%; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 119% a 119%; do. do. do., coupon, 122% a 122%; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 1163 a 117; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 1163 a 117; do. do., 1864, do., do., 116% a 117; do. do., 1865, do., do., 118% a 118%: do. do., 1867, registered, January and July, 119 a 119%; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 119% a 119%; do. do., 1867, do., do., 121% a 122; do. do., 1868 do., do., 120% a 120%; do. ten-forties, registered, 112% a 112%; do. do., coupon, 114% a 114%; do. fives of 1881, registered, 115% a 116; do. do. do., coupon, 115% a 116.

THE FOREIGN MARKET.

While it is true that we of the United States are beyond the pale of direct foreign financial interference, it is still the fact that every Bourse in Christendom, our own included, yields more or less to those magnetic influences, wherever they may emanate, that drive the needle around the dial plate in its record of the course of trade. It is, therefore, satisfactory to contemplate at this time the condition of affairs on the Continent and in England resultant from the recent disturbance in Vienna. Our London exchanges just received furnish the data; and we may pause here for a moment to say that they bear out the remarks which have heretofore appeared in this column concerning that event. For several years past, and especially of late, Austria has been the locale of as many "WILDCAT" SPECULATIONS as ever disgraced any community in the world. Money was abundant, credit free as the air, and men rushed, thoughtless of the settling day, into every scheme that promised profit. Associations formed for various purposes with millions for their capital. Stock was heavily watered and shares flooded the market. Speculations proved rotten, and, at last, the failure of one of the finan cial houses of the Austrian capital pricked the bubble and fully developed the extent of the money-making mania. Profound depression followed. Frankfort responded to the tremulous condition and Berlin was moved to a scarcely less degree. The wave of disturbance swept through Paris to London, where it received its check. A Sew years ago a financial panic in Vienna would have been like a ripple against a rock. Now, however, so intimately identified with each other are these money centres that COMMERCIAL INJURY to one necesarily more or less affects all. Thus Vienna borrowed from Berlin and Frankfort, they from Paris, and all four asked London for help. England, however, had not enough available capital to supply the whole Continent, and therefore, after sending abroad what could be spared, made money artificially dearer in order to compel an economy of consumption. The rate of discount was advanced to 6 per cent, and the stability of English resources has been daily exemplified since that time in the steadiness of the London market and the active demand for all profitable securities. Among these, consols have shown their strength during the week at 94, United States new fives at 89% a % an-fortles at 88% a 88%, while the rate of discount for three months' bills in open market is fully one per cent below that of the Bank of England.

THE ENGLISH MARKET, therefore, at the present moment, is free from the fictitious influences that precede the Vienna crisis and has been a double gainer from the proper precaution, taken at the right moment, directly by the enhanced value it charges for all advances, and indirectly in the gain that has resulted to every investor. The confidence thus engendered reached our own mart, and in the generally steady operans of the past week, dull as the markets may have been occasionally, we have proof of the inti-mate relationship between the two greatest money centres of the world.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Money has been hampered by no disturbing influ ence during the week. The prevailing rates on de-mand loans have been 5 and 6 per cent, with exceptional extremes of 4 and 7 per cent. For prime commercial paper, although the business in this market was not as active as during the preceding week, the bulk of the transactions have been with in the range of 7 and 9 per cent. Country banks are still active buyers of first class names. Foreign exchange declined at the close of the week with actual business at 108% for prime bankers' so days sterling and 100% a 100% for sight.

The imports and exports of the week are as follows:—General merchandise imports, including dry goods, $8,585,218; produce exports, $5,482,894; and specie exports, $659,018. The total merchan-dise imports since January 1 are $189,744,658, against $183,969,771 last year and $147,170,054 in 1871. The total exports of produce since January 1 are $106,123,432, against $80,900,943 last year and $89,392,873 in 1871. The total exports of specie since January 1 are $19,778,838, against $22,473,161 last year and $30,444,290 in 1871.

THE BANK STATEMENT. The bank statement is unfavorable, inasmuch as it shows a falling off in specie and legal tenders, an expansion in loans and an increase of deposits. The surplus reserve, therefore, shows an impairment of pretty nearly $900,000. The loss in specie is trifling and scarcely worth mentioning. The loss in legal tenders is not readily explained, for it is in actual contrariety to the usual current of the money market at this season of the year. Still, the amount is not so very large and the difference may have occurred in the system of averages of the banks in connection with the payment for the government gold last week, for which the Treasury required 50 per cent to be paid in legal tenders. This fact alone ought to explain the disparity. Indeed, it more than accounts for it. These are the only notable features of the statement, the changes otherwise being nominal. The statement, with its predecessor of t	he preceding v	veek, is given

a decrease for the week of $898,800. THE STOCK MARKET.

From the beginning of the week until the close the stock market showed the absence of the leaders who are accustomed to provoke activity in the operations of the Exchange. Several of the "big guns" are absent on Junketing expeditions in the West and Southwest, and those who remain at nome are lying idly upon their oars, waiting for an ebb tide. Duiness has been the general characteristic, and, except in one or two instances, the fluctuations of the week have been insufficient to give unusual tone to the market. The leading exceptions were Pacific Mail and Erie. The former sold as high as 47% and as low as 44%, the closing price on Saturday being 45%. Erie responded chiefly to London advices, which showed that the stock was steady in that market, with a range from 48 to 49. Towards the close of the week, especially on Saturday, stocks generally went off 1/4 a 1/4 per cent from the average of preceding days. It is announced that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company have in progress the construction of an extension of the line from the present terminus at Richmond, down the peninsuia, between the James and York rivers, to a point on deep water on the Chesapeake, near the capes at its entrance, where the largest vessels in the world can always find safe anchorage and ample depth alongside of the cars. The Allan line of transatlantic steamships is now making semi-monthly trips between Norfolk and Liverpool, and they will seek the deep-water terminus above mentioned as soon as the exten-sion is completed, thus establishing a close and more direct line between Europe and the Western States. The Louisville, Wabash and Toledo Railroad have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the Secretary of State at Indianapolis. The capital stock is to be $2,000,000. The road is intended to run from Rushville, Rush county, seventy miles to Marion, Grant county.

The merchandise markets were rather quiet all through the last week; yet there were more fluctuations in values than usual, and in some instances the changes were radical. As is usual when the 'season' is well advanced, goods in all departments of trade have undergone the "marking-down" process, dealers hoping in this way to prolong the season somewhat and work off the "odds and ends," which are the inevitable result of an active movement of trade. Very much in this line has been done during the past week, in view of which the transportation lines have been kept tolerably busy, many goods having been received at the freight receiving stations of the leading railroads. Dry goods cases are still re-ceived in considerable numbers, while other leading commodities are seeking an outlet from the city in such quantities as to precinde the idea that the Spring trade has closed or that the Spring season is over. Business began later than usual, but it is extending to a later period than usual also, so that, when the average is struck, it will probably be found that business this Spring has been fully as heavy, if not heavier, than usual. Business in many commodities slowed off somewhat during the past week; yet the aggregate was fair for this advanced stage of the season. The export movement in breadstuffs was restricted by the small supply; but, with receipts by canal nearly at hand, a brisker trade may soon be looked for. Prices, meantime, have been settling down to something like a real basis, lots on the spot and near at hand more nearly approaching each other than for some time past, and ruling for the most part considerably lower than they were a week ago. The scarcity of freight room and the high rates current and prospecof freight room and the high rates current and prospective tend to retard the export movement very materially, and many orders are accordingly in abeyance. The movement in provisions was slow all through the week, and a liberal decline in nearly every description of the hog product failed to stimulate any demand of moment, so that while at the close of the week prices were decidedly lower, the markets were sluggish. On Saturday the usual quietude obtained in nearly all descriptions of merchandise. Cotton was dull for spot, but active for future. At the Produce Exchange the flour market was quiet, with prices rather in buyers favor. Wheat was somewhat irregular, owing to the break in the canal; but, on the whole, the market was firm. Corn was in movement demand and not quotably quality not more than half a grade above or below the grade quoted.

REAL ESTATE AFFAIRS.

City and Suburban Property Under the Hammer This Week.

siness for this week in public sales, so far as city property is concerned, promises to be but slim, being composed of only a few legal sales. In suburban property, however, there seems to be great activity, and if all the land advertised to be sold during the coming six days is disposed of the transactions will foot up as a total a very respectable sum. The following summary of sales to be held this week will give our readers an idea of the offers made to purchasers of eligibly located real estate. The most important of the coming sales will be that of the Whitestone Land Association, held at the Exchange, by Messrs. Muller, Wilkins & Co., on the 29th inst.:—

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN NEW JERSEY.

Proposed Division of the Diocese-Too Much Work for the Bishop-Views of the Clergy and Laity. On Tuesday next the nineteenth Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey will meet at Burnington, where Bishop Odenheimer resides, and it is safe to say that since the erection of the diocese no convention will have met under a greater pressure of anxiety and excitement than this one. the occasion being the proposition to divide the diocese and have two bishops instead of one. At the last Diocesan Convention, held in Newark, a committee was appointed to consider the subject of a division. This committee will report at this session almost the first thing after the opening of the convention. It is composed of the following clergy and laity:-Clergy-Rev. Messrs. J. H. Smith, of Newark; Merrit, of Morristown; Clarke, of Eliza-Newark; Merrit, of Morristown; Clarke, of Elizabeth; Stubbs, of New Brunswick; Garrison, of Camden, and Boggs, of Newark. Laity—Messrs. Dodd, Mills, Thompson, Garthwaite, Voorhees, Many and Guantt. The anxiety and excitement felt in Episcopal circles from one end of the State to the other, and which, as the opening day of the convention nears, naturally increases, is not so much as to how the committee will report as how the Convention will consider and treat the subject. It is believed in well informed lay and ecclesiastical circles that this committee, aithough fairly ballanced, will report in favor of setting off THE SEVEN NORTHERLY COUNTIES AS A NEW DIOCESE.

It is believed in well informed lay and ecclesiastical circles that this committee, although fairly ballanced, will report in favor of setting off THE SEVEN NORTHERLY COUNTIES AS A NEW DIOCESE.

These counties are Hudson, Essex, Passaic, Bergen, Morris, Sussex and Warren, and now form what is known as the Northern Convention of the Episcopal Church in New Jersey. And now, in the event of the committee so reporting—a thing that is undoubted in some authoritative quarters—the grand question is, What will the Convention do? This Convention, as are all Episcopal conventions, is composed equally of clergy and laity. As regards the sentiment of the clergy on the proposition to divide, that is pretty generally known to be largely in favor of the measure. The Herald representative has been advised, on high authority, that meetings have been held of the reverend gentlemen in the various portions of the State and the subject thoroughly discussed, the results of which warrants the opinion that three-fourths of the clergy are already agreed for a division, and it is, therefore, considered that the question, so lar as the clergy are concerned, is practically settled.

BUT WHAT SAY THE LATTY?

This is a question that puzzles, and will not be solved until next Tuesday or after. The newspapers in the State have been mildly considering this latter problem, and some say the laity are opposed to the measure almost unanimously; but this is probably incorrect. One of the principal reasons urged against the division is, that the laity are not willing to incur the additional expense involved of supporting another Bishop. It is also urged that the present Bishop does not need assistance in his work, but that he is well able to accomplish all the work of the Episcopacy. On careful inquiry recently the Herald representative finds that these views are not entertained by even a majority of the laity, and that such leading and active men as Mills, Hance, Wright, Voorhees, Vanderpool, Many, Garthwaite, Sibley, Hayes, Cheesebrough and Ward c noncincing as somewhat beyond the common. In conclusion, it is a matter that cannot be doubted that whether division takes place this year or not it will surely come in the not distant future. A mere question of a few dollars and cents will certainly stop it.

FIRE IN BROOKLYN.

Seventeen Horses and Eight Carriages

Burned Up.

The alarm of fire given at half-past four o'clock yesterday morning for District No. 62 was occa sioned by the burning of the three story brick building Nos. 22 and 24 Verandah place, used as a livery stable. The Fire Department were early on the scene of operation and labored strenuously but unscene of operation and labored strendously but unsuccessfully to rescue eventeen horses which were stabled in the lower part of the structure. The equines were burned to death in their stalls. Eight carriages were also destroyed by fire. The upper part of the building was occupied by John Jackson and Thomas Smith, both colored. The fire had gained considerable headway before the inmates were aware of their danger. They narrowly escaped with their hves. Fire Marshal Keady is of the opinion that the place was set on fire by a drunken individual who was seen smoking on the premises just before the alarm was given. The building was almost entirely gutted by the fire. The building was owned by Patrick McIntire, whose loss is $5,000 on building. His other losses were as foliows:—On horses, $2,400; five coaches, $5,000; harness, $500; sleigh, $150; feed, $150. John C. leale lost two horses, two carriages, harness, &c, valued at $1,800. Samuel Phillips lost one horse and harness valued at $330. Henry Mygo lost phacton and horse valued at $500. Charles Brice lost on wagon and one horse $1,500. Frank Conner's loss on property, horse and wagon amounts to $600. Mrs. O'Nell, of 16 Clinton avenue, lost a horse valued at $500. John Jackson and Thomas Smith lost property to the amount of $150. The insurances could not be ascertained. The aggregate loss amounts to $18,900. successfully to rescue seventeen horses which were
